

A vintage black and white photograph of a young child, likely a girl, standing in a cotton field. She is wearing a light-colored, long-sleeved dress with a gathered waist and is holding a cotton boll in her hands. The background shows the branches of cotton plants with several other cotton bolls. The overall tone is historical and agricultural.

20th Cotton & Rural History Conference

April 16, 2016

Audie Murphy/American Cotton Museum
Greenville, Texas

To register, contact the museum at (903) 450-4502 or Kyle Wilkison at kwilkison@collin.edu.

This conference is made possible by Collin College, the Audie Murphy American Cotton Museum, Special Collections-Texas A&M University-Commerce Libraries, the East Texas Historical Association, the Texas State Historical Association and private donors. We owe very special thanks for their many years of support to Ms. Sharyn Art, Ms. Ruth Payton and Dean Gary Hodge, all from Social and Behavioral Sciences Division, Spring Creek Campus, Collin College, Plano, Texas.

Photograph by Lewis W. Hine